

TAMIYA'S ESCORT COSWORTH!

Here are the first photographs of the latest creation from the Tamiya factory. Although many of the components will be familiar to readers of RCMC or Tamiya owners the concept of the car is all new.

With the Celica rally version the ground clearance on the car was limited this problem has now been alleviated on the new Escort Cosworth with the addition of long throw suspension and larger diameter tyres.

In addition to the handling changes Tamiya have produced a stunning Lexan moulded Cosworth bodyshell complete with plastic moulded parts including the rear wing and wing mirrors. The overall package must rate as one of the best Tamiya models to date being both excellent looking with a fantastic on and off road performance.

A full review of the Escort Cosworth can be found in the next issue of Model Cars.
